AFFR OPENING: EUROPEAN PREMIERE: THE EXPERIMENTAL CITY		OPENING PARTY

BUILDING HAPPINESS

In its tenth edition, of which the theme is 'Building Happiness', the Architecture Film Festival Rotterdam explores how we can view the side effects of the pursuit of happiness as a challenge to create a better and more sustainable world. What progress have we made with the circular economy and the construction of a climate-neutral city? What scenarios can we devise for a fair and just society? And what role can filmmakers, designers, planners, academics and politicians play?

The Architecture Film Festival Rotterdam (AFFR) explores the relation between film, city and architecture. AFFR has matured into a leading international podium for films about architecture, urban development and the built environment. AFFR brings together not only a broad public from Rotterdam but also city lovers, students, researchers, designers and filmmakers from all over the world, all of whom engage with one another in debate about the past, present and future of the city.

MEET THE MAKERS TALK SHOW

No film festival would be complete without filmmakers. On Saturday, curator Jord den Hollander will interview a number of them about their fascinations, the films they have made and the difficulties they encountered. SATURDAY 13 OCTOBER, 14:15 & 16:00.

RICK PRELINGER: THE LOST LANDSCAPES OF NEW YORK

Author, architect and filmmaker Rick Prelinger, founder of The Prelinger Archives will deliver a special lecture on the film history of New York. Using amateur and archive film material never previously screened, he will show in stunning fashion the changes to and development of the urban landscape of New York. SUNDAY 14 OCTOBER, 16:45.

MARTIN KOOLHOVEN: BUILDING HAPPINESS IN CINEMA

Director and film expert Martin Koolhoven (Corigorswiter and Brimstone) uses film fragments to discuss the pursuit of happiness in 120 years of film history. A cinematic-graphic collage followed by a special screening of the film classic Brazil (Terry Gilliam, 1985). FRIDAY 12 OCTOBER, 21:00.

HUMAN SHELTER (WORLD PREMIERE) - BNA EVENT

In the film Human Shelter, the Danish director Boris Bertram undertakes a fascinating journey to answer one question: When does a house become a home? After the screening, Jord den Hollander will talk with Boris Bertram and Nathalie de Vries (Chairwoman of BNA). FRIDAY 12 OCTOBER, 14:45.

AFFR COLLEGE FILMS

Academics from the Royal Academy of Art in The Hague, Willem de Kooning Academy, Failed Architects Collective, University of Amsterdam, Delft University of Technology and the Academies of Architecture in Amsterdam and Rotterdam will introduce the films. FRIDAY 12 & SATURDAY 13 OCTOBER.

BUILDING HAPPINESS DEBATE

In collaboration with BNA and AIR, AFFR is organizing a debate on the theme 'Building Happiness'. Moderated by Saskia van Stein, the session will explore the contribution of architecture to the pursuit of happiness. THURSDAY 11 OCTOBER, 19:30.

OPENING NIGHT - THE EXPERIMENTAL CITY

A stunning documentary by Chad Friedrichs about the ultimate living lab for urbanization: The Experimental City. A megalomaniac plan developed in the 1960s to show that the growing problems of big cities could be resolved. WEDNESDAY 10 OCTOBER, 20:30 - HOPPLEIN THEATRE.
